THE JEANNETTE'S DEAD.

Reminiscences of De Long---His Early Days.

[From the N. Y. Herald.]

Lieutenant Norris, executive officer of the St Mary's expressed himself as deeply grieved over the news of De Long's death. "De Long," he said, "succeeded Lieutenant Commander Wadleigh as executive officer of the St Mary's in 187[illegible]. He and Captain Fithian were here together. De Long left our ship to take command of the Jeannette. He was here between two and three years. When he went to the Jeannette he took Ninderman and Noros with him. They were as Captain Lyfen said strongly attached to De Long. I remember De Long coming aboard and speaking to Ninderman about the expedition. Ninderman's reply was to the effect that he would go anywhere with him. Just before he started on the expedition De Long came on the St Mary's to see us and bid us good by.

"I remember one thing that happened while De Long was on this ship that will show his pluck. The vessel was at Lisbon and De Long sustained a compound fracture of the ankle. The doctor told him that if he did not take the best of care of himself he would run the risk of losing his foot. There happened however, to be no one to take charge of the deck and De Long although suffering intense pain from his injury, insisted upon filling the position. I distinctly remember him seated on the deck of the vessel his leg in a sling as attentive to duty as if he were a well man.

"He was a great student of Arctic history and his wife was almost as enthusiastic about it as himself. I remember meeting him in Washington. His thoughts were all about the Jeannette expedition and what it would accomplish. He spoke with earnest hope of reaching the North Pole and he and I spent some time in discussing what course he would best pursue in the event of his getting within the polar circle.

A UNIVERSAL FAVORITE

"On board this ship he was a great favorite. In the navy he bore as good a reputation as any of the younger officers. We all had confidence in his courage and perseverance. When he was appointed to command the Jeannette it was the universal sentiment among all the younger members of the navy that if any man could succeed in the enterprise he was George W De Long. In all the conversations I held with him he spoke hopefully of the success of the expedition. I think that in the news that reaches us of his conflict under the terrible experiences the Jeannette's crew encountered he has shown that the faith we all had in his courage, ability, cool head and stout heart was not misplaced."

BOYISH AMBITIONS

Assistant District Attorney John Oakey of Kings county, who knew De Long from his boyhood in conversation with a Herald reporter, gave an interesting account of the early days of the intrepid lieutenant. "He was one of the brightest nicest and most intelligent boys that ever lived," said Mr Oakey. "I thought a great deal of him and took a pride in all that pertained to his advancement. When I first knew De Long I should say he was about fifteen years of age. My office was in the old Nassau Bank Building, No 133 Nassau street, where he was my assistant. I was notary of the Nassau Bank.

"After the fall of Fort Sumter I went to the war and left George in charge of my office business. Some time after my return with the Seventh there was an examination ordered in the Greenwich street public school for a cadet appointment at the United States Naval Academy and De Long got it into his head that he should enter the navy. I knew Ben Wood who was a member of Congress and had the appointment of a cadet, and George wanted me to see Mr Wood and ask him for the place. I did so, and Wood said 'I've got no appointment, as I have already made one.' Then I said 'Well, Mr Wood, in case you should have an appointment to the Naval Academy will you promise to appoint my young friend, George W De Long?' 'If ever there is any vacancy in my power to fill I promise your friend shall have it.' One morning soon after I came down to the office and found George quivering with excitement. He had just learned that the cadet who had been appointed by Ben Wood had been so afflicted with impaired eyesight that he had resigned from the Naval Academy. There was a vacancy and Ben Wood appointed De Long to fill it. At that time the Naval Academy was at Newport R I, having been removed from Annapolis. Professor Beecher, who had been my teacher at Flatbush, was professor of mathematics at the Academy and when De Long received his appointment I wrote a letter to the Professor recommending the young cadet to his friendship. I also obtained a letter for him from Miss Newton to the then commandant of the Naval Academy. The lady was a cousin of the Commandant and was a sister of Isaac Newton, engineer of the monitor that fought the rebel fleet off Fortress Monroe. Then an obstacle most serious arose unexpectedly. De Long had passed a creditable examination when there came a despatch from Gideon Welles, the Secretary of the Navy, saying, "Don't appoint Mr Wood's appointee for the navy." Ben Wood had been charged with secession principles, and hence the opposition from Washington. George returned to New York and I got him letters to Sec'y Welles and to President Lincoln and others at Washington. I told him to go and stay and see everybody until his case was attended to. He did so and came back in a day or two with his appointment confirmed. Professor Beecher was a warm and intimate friend of Judge John Vanderbilt, at whose house, in Flatbush, he used to visit. I met the Professor there one day while George was at the Academy and asked about him. His answer was, 'De Long is getting on nicely.' The Professor was a man of few words, and after De Long graduated the young midshipman called to see me, and told me that the only indication of special notice or interest he ever observed toward him on the part of the Professor in the four years' term, was after graduating, when Mr. Beecher sent for him to go to his room. There he shook him by the hand and congratulated him. After De Long's return from Europe with his bride my wife and I called to see him at their home in Seventh avenue. When he had the management of the reception of the Grand Duke Alexis I frequently saw him. Indeed, he never happened in this vicinity that we did not see each other. He was bright intelligent brave kindly of disposition and noble. Poor De Long!"

PREPARING FOR THE ARCTIC

Mr Wotton, the brother of Mrs De Long, gave some interesting details as to the preparations for his departure on the Jeannette, in which Mr Wotton rendered his assistance, the latter said

"I acted as his secretary and was often filled with admiration at the perseverance, endurance and thoroughness with which he attended to every detail. He had perhaps, one hundred applications a day for positions on the Jeannette. Nothing more painstaking or exhaustive than his examination of an applicant could possibly be imagined. He was very careful I remember to select only the most temperate men. He objected also to all persons with black eyes, because these are more susceptible to snow blindness while blue or gray eyes are much less so. Nothing that would make up the qualification of an applicant escaped his minute observation and searching judgment."

Mr Wotton vividly remembered the many merry evening parties which De Long, Collins and Ambler enjoyed at Mr Wotton's house at No 1[illegible]0 West Eleventh street while these preparations were going on. The question of how to devise new games or pastimes for the long dark Arctic days occupied their minds [illegible] frequently. De Long would sometimes say to Collins who was regarded as the most humorous and inventive of the party "Now give us something new, suggest some toy puzzle or some musical instrument with which to pass the time." A hand organ was proposed one evening, Mr Wotton says but they all laughingly agreed that perhaps total silence was preferable to that.

Mr Wotton was asked whether De Long ever had any premonitions of his [illegible] fate and replied. "He was always very unwilling to see the many reports which came to the house and to make a great stir about the affair until it should come out successfully. As he used to say 'I don't want to go off through the big part of the horn and come back through the little one.' He was willing to take all the credit the world would allow him if he came back crowned with success, but wanted to start off as quietly as possible. When he used to read about the death of other explorers he would say 'Well that's terrible, I hope that will not be my fate,' but he always spoke with perfect cheerfulness and confidence of his safe return."

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

Twenty four gentlemen and two ladies will graduate from Bates College this summer.

A rarely beautiful and costly clock has been presented to Col C H O[illegible] of Lewiston. It is called a "Pike's Peak clock" and is set in a rocky frame of ores and crystals. The fifty five varieties of minerals from various parts of Colorado and Wyoming are imbedded in the frame. There are gold, silver copper and lead ores, opals, jasper petrified woods agate etc. They are artistically grouped and the effect is as splendid as it is unique.

The Lewiston Journal says When Dr Bigelow was appointed State Liquor Commissioner by Governor Garcelon and established his agency in Railroad Block he adorned that building with a sign reading Wholesale Liquor Dealer. Although these obnoxious words did not read well to our temperance people and the sign was a prolific topic of discussion in our temperance organization the doctor claimed that he was obliged by law to display such a sign and declined to take it down upon being requested to do so. When Dr Bigelow's mantle of office slid from his shoulders, he did not remove the sign and it remained a prominent object on Railroad Block until a few days since when a gentleman in a tall hat and minister's [illegible] and choker was observed to climb a ladder axe in hand. The sign yielded to the blows of the axe and was dislodged from the bricks forever and for aye.

Cumberland

The store of R W [illegible]ghton at Woodford's corner was broken into Thursday night by thieves who gained admission through a window. No money was taken but a lot of tobacco and a quantity of knives were stolen.

Steamer Lake Sebago will commence her regular trips for the season between Harrison and Standish next Wednesday. The steamer has been thoroughly overhauled from stem to stern and put in first class condition.

Friday morning about [illegible] o'clock Mrs Agnes Hayes aged about sixty years was found dead on the floor at the house of her son in law Mr Charles Pettis No [illegible] Washington street Portland. Coroner Gould was notified and procured medical advice. An inquest was after examination, deemed unnecessary.

The numerous friends of Mr P [illegible] Boothby formerly of Portland who has become quite famous as a hotel man will be glad to learn of his continued prosperity. The management of the Stockton Hotel at Cape May, has been intrusted to him for the season of '82. The Stockton is one of the largest hotels in the country having comfortable accommodations for over one thousand guests.

It is stated that those members of the Pine street Methodist church Portland who were satisfied with the preaching of the Rev Mr [illegible] and opposed to the course that other members of the church took to get rid of him have seceded from that society and formed another society.

The Waterville Sentinel says Mrs Bates, wife of the Episcopal minister, came near meeting with a serious accident on Monday. She was driving near Sherwin Hill when the horse became unmanageable and ran some distance. Fortunately no injury was done.

The Journal says, "Friday afternoon as Will S Stone and Will C Gardner of Augusta, were fishing on the Seven mile brook, near the old paper mill in Vassalboro, their supply of bait became exhausted, and they had to resort to the bank for a supply. In their excavations they unearthed a pair of rusty handcuffs locked together with a piece of bone, which looked like the bone of a human arm thrust through one of the links. On being exposed to the air, the bone soon crumbled to pieces. How came the handcuffs there and was a crime committed years ago? are the questions to be solved.

The Augusta shoe factory has already become quite a hive of industry, some 70 persons being constantly employed. The force will be increased as fast as practicable, as the firm have orders enough in prospect to keep them busy for an indefinite period. They are lasting seven or eight cases a day and finishing about 30 cases a week, and hope soon to double their capacity of production. An expensive Tappley burnisher of the most improved pattern has just been put in, and another McKay stitching machine is to be added.

CHANGE OF DATE

To Tuesday, June 13th

Owing to an unusual and unexpected delay in the summer arrangement of one of the steamboat lines, the date of the Republican State Convention to be held at Portland has been changed from Thursday, June 15th to Tuesday June 13th

The boat of the Portland & Machias Steamboat Company will leave Machias for Portland Monday June 12 connecting at Rockland with the Sanford Line steamers and reaching Portland Monday evening thus accommodating delegates from the shore sections of Eastern Maine

THE FUSION PLOT

In the last issue of "Them Steers," Solon Chase notifies Greenbackers of the cunningly laid plan of the Bourbons to complete the swallowing of the Greenback party of Maine and warns his Greenback friends of their peril The picture drawn though homely is true to the life Gov Plaisted's treacherous part in the scheme is pointed out He has sold himself to the Bourbons, body and soul but he poses as a Greenbacker in order that he may lead honest Greenbackers over into the Democratic camp Mr Chase says

"The men who will spread on the Greenback molasses at the Democratic Convention at Bangor June 1st know what a union ticket for the rest of the offices means just as well as the Eastern Argus The Bourbon leaders know the Convention at Bangor will nominate a Democrat for Governor He has been tried and proved true to them They know their man and they know 'the union ticket for the rest of the offices will be made up of square Democrats and 'Greenbackers' who are eager to be elected by the aid of Democratic votes Every Greenbacker who accepts a position on the union ticket for the rest of the offices is on the straight road to the Democratic kingdom come and must cast his influence for the next Democratic candidate for President or bolt from the house of his 'friends' The union ticket for the rest of the offices will not be put in the field until late in the campaign so as to keep the purpose of the Democratic leaders and sorehead Republicans who claim to be Greenbackers covered up which is to deliver the Greenbackers of Maine to the Democratic party

After the Democrats have nominated their candidate for Governor they will spread on the molasses until they think Bourbon grease and Greenback 'lie' will mix then they will nominate the union ticket for the rest of the offices Greenback representatives to the Legislature elected on the union ticket for the rest of the offices when they get there they can't pick themselves out from Democrats, and if they don't vote for the next Democratic candidate for President, there will be 'un harmony' in the Democratic party

Greenbackers of Maine! You have been traveling straight toward the Democratic party for the last two years The Convention at Bangor, June 1st is to make a final delivery of the Greenback party over to the Democracy It is for you to say not so much by words as by your actions, whether you will be delivered or not If you make a record as Democrats this year you can hardly escape from the Democratic party two years hence."

THE COURT OF APPEALS BILL. The Court of Appeals bill which was passed by the Senate on Friday, provides that two new Circuit Judges be appointed in each circuit making eighteen in all and that there shall be a Court of Appeals in each circuit, which shall consist of the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court for that circuit the three Circuit Judges and two of the District Judges, the latter to be designated at each term for the succeeding term Appellate jurisdiction is conferred upon the new court over the decrees of the Circuit or District Courts in causes involving more than $5,000, or when a Circuit or District Judge shall certify that the adjudication involves a question of general importance Decisions of the Appellate Court on questions of fact shall be conclusive, but views upon points of law may be had upon writs of error to the Supreme Court when the matter involved exceeds $10,000 The bill provides that the first terms of the courts thus constituted shall be held in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Richmond, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Chicago, St Louis and San Francisco, and that the terms shall begin the first Tuesdays of May and November. The District or Circuit Judge who tries a case is prohibited from sitting in the hearing upon appeal.

Senator Edmunds has engaged summer quarters in Dublin, near Monadnock Mountain and Lake.

A GOOD DAY'S WORK IN CONGRESS.

[Boston Journal, May 13]

In the House yesterday, under the leadership of Mr. Reed, of Maine, a bill was passed by a vote of two to one which, if it becomes a law, will render tardy justice to those sufferers by the Anglo Confederate privateer known as the exculpated cruisers and those who paid the heavy war rates of marine insurance during the Rebellion. The merits of the question are fully understood. Mr Reed's bill, which the House has passed, proposes to compensate those who were losers by carrying our flag on the high seas during the Rebellion As this bill has passed the House at so early a date there is reason to hope that it will finally pass the Senate But this good work would have been followed by the passage of a yet more important bill had not the mass of the Democrats, under Mr. Randall, prevented the taking up of Mr Crapo's bill to extend the charters of the National banks By refusing to vote they broke a quorum and prevented the discussion of the bill There is no more important measure before Congress It affects $08,000,000 of the paper money of the country and $150 000 000 of loans to business men The Democratic leaders understand this yet they will take the risk of postponing or defeating the measure because they expect to make political capital out of the matter in some way

The Senate finally passed the very important Court of Appeals bill, which has been under discussion for several days, and which certain Bourbons resisted by long speeches and dilatory motions and amendments

WHO IS BACKING BELMONT?

[From the Newark Advertiser, Rep]

Who is behind Belmont? Somebody evidently That somebody is the Rothschilds or the English Government, with a strong French influence Belmont though born on our soil is no American He serves the house of the Rothschilds and represents them in this controversy The English Government had some reason for keeping seven ironclads on the coast of Peru and Chili during the recent war Somebody has got away with the guano and the nitrates, and our commerce with those countries is abolished England has the whole of it We have lost all influence and standing, and an American ship will not put into any of these ports except under stress of weather. Our conclusion is that the position of Belmont is that of the representative of the Cochet claim, in which no American is represented, and against the Landreau claim, to which an American citizen has certainly some claim to a hearing in the courts of Peru and Chili But it has all gone to the Rothschilds

Democratic aspirants for Congressional nominations in Kentucky are as numerous as usual The Louisville Courier-Journal warns them, however, that the present delegation from the State is quite satisfactory and that unless they can prove themselves better advocates of the issues now before the people than the present members are, they are sure to meet with disappointment It thinks that the only road for any Kentuckian to travel who wishes to go to Congress is this "Don't be afraid of ideas, don't be afraid of issues, don't be afraid of friction don't be afraid to tackle flesh and blood adversaries Cut loose from conventional tomfoolery Get out of the old ruts Come up abreast with the times Be just, liberal and enlightened and force the fighting more upon measures and less upon men"

California has not been redistricted, and the two additional members of Congress the new apportionment gave the State, will be elected at large The Republicans hope to recover the IIId District, which is said to have been lost in 1880 by the unpopularity of their candidate Congressman Berry now represents it having been elected by 627 majority

This may be just, but it was not generous A stableman in Brooklyn recently lost his life at a fire in trying to save his employer's horses, when his month was within four days of being ended When the widow called for what was due her husband the employer deducted the four days wages At least this is the report that has induced the stablemen and drivers in Brooklyn to start a subscription for the widow, but it is to be hoped that the story is incorrect

Congressman Deering of the IVth Iowa District has decided not to accept a nomination He is now serving his third term and was elected in 1880 by 11,000 majority over all his opponent The recent redistricting of the state placed Mr Deering and Congressman Updegraff in the same district. The withdrawal of Mr Deering will leave Mr Updegraff it is thought, a clear field for renomination

The Charleston, S C, News makes a pitiable attempt to explain away its unguarded declaration that if Northern Democrats do not face the music and retain the Representatives sent to Congress from the South by fraud the Democrats of the South will become discouraged and no longer labor to retain party ascendency when it says that South Carolina Democrats will not register if Northern Democratic Representatives do not filibuster to prevent the ousting of such men as Chalmers.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS

Mr Sargent, the American Minister to Germany, has arrived at Berlin.

Franklin Haven, Jr, of the class of 1857 has been appointed Chief Marshal for Commencement Day at Harvard, which occurs on June 28

Alfred Tennyson is busily writing at one of his country-places He has finished his new play and Mr Irving will soon bring it out at the Lyceum

It is said that Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt will pay $7,000 a year to her new French cook, who was formerly with the Baroness de Rothschild General Corse, who was General Sherman's daring chief of staff on the march to the sea, is about to marry Miss McNeil, a grandniece of President Pierce.

Stephen Jenner, grand nephew of the discoverer of vaccination, and himself the subject of some of his early experiments, is living, at the age of eighty-five, in great poverty at Heathsfield, Eng.

The young readers of St. Nicholas will regret the death of Mr. A. B Thompson, one of the editors of the magazine—the one who personated "Jack-in-the-Pulpit." Mr. Thompson was thirty-four years old, and he died at his residence in Brooklyn.

It is reported that Mr Bennett had already under consideration plans for another Arctic expedition of great magnitude to be conducted jointly by officers of the army and the navy, which he was cogitating when the news came of the finding of DeLong and his party dead. It is understood that, in obedience to public sentiment, he will abandon his intention unless there should appear to be reasonable grounds for a search for the remains of Lieut. Chipp's party.

Mr Emerson is said to have left an estate valued at about $200,000. Much of this was accumulated and preserved through the thrift of his admirable wife. More than one visitor to Concord remembers a vision of the gentle lady busy among the clothes lines of the philosopher's back yard on a Monday morning.

Richard Burke, of Clonmel, Ireland, in whose veins runs blood akin to that of Edmund Burke, was married in San Francisco last week to one of the chief heiresses of that city This was Miss Donohue, daughter of the James Donohue who, with his brother, gave its gaslight to San Francisco

Joseph Howard, who is reporting the Malley trial for the New York Herald attempted to wear a skull cap the other day to shield his poorly protected head from the draughts in the court room, but the Sheriff would not allow it The next morning he found on his table a box containing a luxuriant wig, with a note from the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners offering him the use of it during the trial

Republican simplicity was never more graphically illustrated than in a pleasant old fashioned house near Iowa City the other day. A representative of The Republican of Cedar Rapids visited the house in search of its owner, ex-Secretary of the Interior Kirkwood "A tall elderly lady with a benevolent and motherly face quit her ironing board and placing her flat iron upon the stove came forward to greet the reporter" It was Mrs Kirkwood

Master Lucien Young, of the United States Navy who is proposed as the commandant of the Arctic expedition, to go by way of Baffin's Bay and Davis Straits in the bill introduced in Congress a few days ago, was a hero of the Huron disaster When the United States steamer Huron was wrecked off Kitty Hawk, N C, on November 24 1877 Mr Young, who was then an ensign, was one of the few saved from the wreck and helped the life-saving crew to rescue others who were nearly exhausted He also succeeded in recovering many of the dead bodies

The locomotive and one car of a train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad passed over a little child who was sitting between the rails, on Tuesday morning Then the train was stopped and the conductor crawled under the car to collect the fragments To the astonishment of everybody he presently emerged with the child in his arms uninjured, except for a slight bruise on the forehead, where the pilot of the locomotive had struck him. All the trainmen and passengers insisted upon hugging the little fellow before surrendering him to his father who stood by.

It is noticeable that coupled with the announcement of the death of almost every man of note nowadays comes the further statement that his life was insured for a greater or less amount The more prominent the man especially in the business world the larger the sum of insurance he is found to have secured This it appears to be the usual thing for sagacious and prudent men who have proved their sagacity by success to wisely protect their business and family interests by the ready and effectual means of life insurance

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Change of Date.

[illegible], May 15. Owing to an unusual and unavoidable delay in the summer arrangements of one of the steamboat lines running to this city, the date of holding the Republican State Convention has been changed from Thursday, June 15th, to Tuesday, June 13th.

FORTY SEVENTH CONGRESS--First Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 15. The House Geneva award bill was tabled temporarily. Five [illegible] reports from the committee on [illegible] buildings were made authorizing the [illegible] of land formerly occupied for a [illegible] in New York city. Also the [illegible] bill for a public building at Louisville, Ky.

The Senate took up the calendar under the Anthony rule for bills not objected to and a number of bills were passed, including several pension bills.

The unfinished business, being the five per cent. land bill, was then taken up, but went over informally.

The House bill for the removal of the remains of the late Minister Kilpatrick [illegible] to New Jersey passed.

Mr. [illegible]beck spoke in favor of giving the [illegible] bonded distilled spirits bill precedence of consideration hereafter, and Mr. [illegible] followed in opposition to the bill. [illegible]

House.

[illegible]eral bills were introduced including the following: By Mr. Robinson, of New York, a resolution requesting the President to communicate to the House whether the papers and correspondence regarding American citizens in British prisons communicated to the British Parliament, [illegible] in London had been received [illegible] State Department, and whether this [illegible] may expect the additional correspondence called for by its resolution of [illegible], whether any persons claiming to be American citizens still remain in British prisons without allegation of crime, [illegible] speedy trial, etc. By Mr. [illegible] of New York, authorizing the sale of the Brooklyn navy yard.

A resolution was adopted desiring the Secretary of War to inquire into the propriety of purchasing the dwelling in Washington in which President Lincoln died.

Mr. Strait, of Minnesota, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill revising the laws relating to the militia force of the United States. Mr. Boyne, of Pennsylvania, in supporting the bill said that if Congress intends to encourage and foster the volunteer militia forces of different States [illegible] adopt some such measure as that [illegible], which made an appropriation of [illegible] dollars to sustain and support [illegible] volunteer organizations. Mr. [illegible]ger, of Illinois, opposed the bill. Mr. Speer, of Georgia, regarded the bill as [illegible] the most dangerous and insidious proposition which had been brought [illegible] the House.

After remarks by Mr. Burrows the rules were suspended and the bill passed, yeas, [illegible] nays, 18.

Several motions to suspend the rules and pass bills were lost. The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President transmitting a communication from the Commissioner of Pensions calling attention to the fact that the deficiency appropriation of $16,000,000, to meet the [illegible] payment of army pensions, should be [illegible] as early as the 25th inst., if practicable, referred.

THE TRAGEDY AT SUTTON.

Important Confessions of the Man Richards.

RICHMOND, Vt., May 15. William Richards, the man under arrest in Hartford, charged with the murder of Jackson, the Englishman at Sutton, Que., when [illegible] by the officer of the cause of his arrest, turned pale and did not inquire for any particulars. He at first denied ever having been in Montreal, but finally admitted he had been there, and made the following statement: That he had arrived [illegible] on board the steamship Montreal; [illegible] had been fellow passenger with Jackson, that he had left Montreal [illegible] in company with Jackson, [illegible] out into the country by train, a [illegible] of hours' ride, that they had [illegible] at a hotel in Abercorn over night; [illegible] following morning they had [illegible] out to look for employment, and [illegible] on a farmer, whose name had been previously given to them; that he had [illegible] to work for this farmer for $20 per month, but as they both wished to find [illegible] in the same vicinity, he said he would [illegible] with his companion till he also could [illegible] work, that they had called upon another farmer, and then Jackson became discouraged and wished to return to the [illegible] and upon inquiring the nearest way [illegible] the station they were directed across the [illegible].

At this point the prisoner broke out into [illegible] and said if the young man Jackson [illegible] come to a violent death he was sure [illegible] knew nothing of it. He further stated [illegible] while on their way to the station, and [illegible] crossing the road they encountered [illegible] milkman, who engaged Jackson [illegible] $14 per month, and he got into the wagon to go home with him, while the [illegible] went to the station and took the [illegible], and he had never seen nor heard [illegible] the young man since. In reply to [illegible] inquiries, he said he had borrowed [illegible] from Beach of Hartford to enable him [illegible] bring his wife and family out from England. A clue has been found to Jackson's [illegible] and some of his clothing with his name upon it, which had been in possession of the prisoner at Hartford, and which [illegible] had given away to parties in Bristol. [illegible] prisoner is said to have already served [illegible] thirteen years in prison in England, [illegible] while living in Hartford got into a [illegible], through which he was sentenced to [illegible] months in jail early in the winter. He was remanded to jail till May 30, when a [illegible] will be held, at which witnesses from [illegible] will go down to identify him, [illegible] which he will be brought to Sweetsburgh Jail, where he will have a trial.

SOUTH AMERICA.

General News.

NEW YORK, May 15. A Lima letter states that the Chilian force had two severe battles with Indians in the interior, in which the Indians were repulsed with great loss.

Trescott is en route to Huarez to meet Montero and formally present his credentials to him and officially confirm Montero's recognition by the United States as acting president of the Republic. Then Trescott will learn what may be the plan of action proposed by the Peruvian chiefs.

Bolivia has published a communication sent by the department of Foreign Affairs to the legations abroad. In this document it is declared that Bolivia will sign no peace treaty with Chili by which the integrity of her territory is assailed and that she will resist until the bitter end. She would, however, join Peru in an endeavor to secure equitable terms of peace, as she acknowledges her inability to successfully prosecute war against Chili. The Bolivian envoy, accredited to Montero, is on his way to Lima under Chilian safe conduct.

A SAD DISASTER.

Eight Persons Drowned.

PULLMAN, Ill., May 15. Sunday night a sailing boat with eight persons on board capsized in Lake Calumet, and all were drowned. The boat was a small craft used by the Pullman people for pleasure excursions, and had on board a party consisting of Capt. Bucklin, an old sea captain recently from Maine, two sons, seventeen and twelve years, John Smith, foreman of the car department, and four men, names not ascertained. They had gone out merely for pleasure, although, owing to the rough water, they were urged by friends not to venture out. The capsizing of the boat was witnessed by a large number of persons on shore, including the wife and daughter of Capt. Bucklin. As soon as possible three boats put out to save the victims seen battling in the water, but it was impossible to do anything, owing to the terrible state of the lake. All the persons were well known in Pullman. The lake shore is being dragged for bodies. Those of Smith and one of the Bucklin boys has been recovered.

Later.

CHICAGO, May 15. A despatch from the Calumet Lake accident says twelve persons were in the boat and so far as learned all were drowned. Why the party ventured upon the Lake in a raging storm is a mystery to every one.

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

The Guiteau Case.

WASHINGTON, May 15. To-day it was learned authoritatively that the decision upon the Guiteau exceptions will be rendered by the District Supreme Court next Monday, and that it will be a unanimous one. There is no longer any doubt but it will overrule all exceptions. It is understood that one of the Judges was inclined to attach much importance to the question raised against the competency of Mrs. Dunmere's testimony, and that another member of the Court found considerable difficulty in coming to an agreement with his colleagues on the question of jurisdiction. But although these two Judges may perhaps take occasion to express opinions in some degree dissenting from their colleagues' process of reasoning on these points, the decision itself will, as above stated, be unanimous.

Worthington Confirmed.

The Senate in Executive session confirmed the nomination of Roland Worthington as Collector of Customs at Boston

Senators Hoar and Dawes spoke in opposition to Worthington's confirmation.

Mr. Frye, in response to these speeches, reviewed all the arguments urged against the nominee, and replying to the charge of general unfitness he remarked that Mr. Worthington was a director in three National banks and editor and principal proprietor of a influential newspaper, which facts, he thought, were sufficient evidence of his high standing, financially and socially. Mr. Frye in course of his remarks defended Worthington from the various charges based on his well known editorial concerning Collector Beard, and after reading the whole of it to the Senate he claimed that in its entirety it was not amenable to the criticisms made upon it by the Massachusetts Senators.

Vote on confirmation resulted—yeas, 38; nays, 14. The negative vote is reported to have been cast by 7 Republicans and 7 Democrats, namely: Hoar, Dawes, Hawley, Platt, Miller (N. Y.), Mitchell, Sherman, Bayard, Saulsbury, Pendleton, Williams, Vest, George and Jones (Fla.)

Forger Arrested.

Special Agent Burke has informed the Land Office that he succeeded in arresting at Omaha the person who printed the fraudulent land certificates so extensively circulated in the West. They were originally printed in Camden, Dakota.

Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Representative Bliss introduced in the House to-day a bill providing for the removal of the navy yard from Brooklyn and sale of the grounds and buildings thereon. The bill provides if a navy yard be established it shall be as convenient as practicable to New York.

Accident to the Alert.

The Navy Department is informed by Medical Inspector Bates, under date of Yokohama, April 21, that the U. S. S. Alert returned to Kobe, Japan, April 19, having been cut down by the Japanese Imperial yacht, which will cause six weeks detention. One Chinaman died from injuries received in the accident.

Another Dose of Shipherd.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs will hold a meeting to-morrow afternoon for reviewing the testimony taken by the sub-committee in New York, and to determine on what matters they will question Shipherd. The sub-committee have returned to this city, except Kasson, who is expected to-day. Shipherd has been summoned to appear before the committee, on Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Letter from Melville.

Secretary Chandler has received a letter from Hoffman, at St. Petersburg, dated April 28, including a letter received from Chief Engineer Melville dated Verkhoy Ansk, February 5, in which he says: "I will leave here for Berlin on my way to Lena Delta by February 8, and will be at Berlin by February 23, and commence the search at once. The Prefect of the District will accompany me and assist in the search. General Tehiriniief has notified the whole Siberian coast from the Lena to the Kolyma. A vigilant search is being made for a second cutter by the natives on the coast."

Contested Election.

In connection with the contested election case of Mackey vs. Dibble of South Carolina, Dibble to-day filed a petition in the House charging that Mackey, in whose favor the House Committee on Elections recently decided, after securing testimony to support his claim to the seat materially changed that testimony in the record. Dibble, therefore, asks an investigation by the House.

Pension Appropriation Bill.

The aggregate amount appropriated by the Pension bill, which has been reported to the House, is $100,000,000, being the exact amount recommended in the estimates submitted to Congress. The appropriations for the same purpose for the current fiscal year amounted to $50,000,000, and it is estimated that a further appropriation of $20,000,000 will be necessary to complete the service for that period. The new bill appropriates for army pensions as follows: Invalids, $74,000,000; widows, children and dependent relatives, $20,000,000; survivors and widows of the war of 1812, $3,640,000; in all, $97,340,000; for navy pensions: invalids, $900,000; widows, children and dependent relatives, $900,000; in all $1,800,000. It provides that the appropriations for navy pensions shall be paid from the income of the navy pension fund, so far as it may be sufficient for that purpose. The additional items for which appropriations are made, are as follows: For fees and expenses of examining surgeons, $275,000; for pay and allowances of pension agents for salary, fees for preparing vouchers, rent, fuel, lights and postage on letters to the Executive Departments and to pensions, $275,000; and for contingent expenses of pension agents, $10,000.

Civil Service.

Senator Pendleton, on behalf of the Committee of Civil Service and Retrenchment, presented to the Senate to-day a report in advocacy of the passage of the bill to improve the civil service of the United States which was reported to the Senate, March 29th.

It is reported that Laubat and Turnbull, members of the Union Club of New York, between whom hostile letters recently passed, are about to fight a duel somewhere near Newark, in the morning. MASSACHUSETTS.

Fatally Assaulted.

NORTH ADAMS, May 15. At Williamstown, last evening, the wife of Dr. Belden was so badly beaten over the head by a club in the hands of her brother, James Noble, that the injuries will probably prove fatal. Noble, who has been violently insane for the past two days, escaped from the keepers and first attempted to kill his mother, but she fled; he then made the assault on his sister. Noble will be sent to Northampton Asylum to-day. Dr. Belden is a member of the Legislature.

Death of a Prominent Clergyman.

GREAT BARRINGTON, May 15. Rev. D. G. Anderson, rector of St. James Episcopal church since 1876, and one of the ablest clergymen in southern Berkshire, died today with diptheria, aged 48. He served in the army during the war, being in command of the company at Washington that guarded the old Capitol prison the night of Lincoln's assassination.

IRELAND.

The Arrears Bill.

LONDON, May 15. Gladstone introduced the Arrears Bill in the Commons last evening. He explained that the bill was limited to tenancies up to £30, Griffith's valuation. The bill is to be administered by the Land Commission, assisted by the County Court Judge, before whom the tenant will be obliged to prove his inability to pay arrears. Either landlord or tenant may apply to the Commission. The bill only deals with two years' arrears, and requires tenants to pay one year's arrears, from November, 1880, to November, 1881. When that is paid the whole of the remaining arrears will be cancelled.

The Government will contribute the remaining year's rent from the residue of the Irish church surplus fund, the estimated amount of which is 1,500,000£. There is no reason to believe the claims on the Governments contributions will exceed two millions. The remaining half million will be made up from the consolidated fund.

REMARKABLE EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS.

Officers in a Dispute Over a Prisoner

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 15. On May 10, Gov. Foster made requisition upon a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for the extradition of Benj. F. Pritchard, charged with forgery, he being a claim agent at Washington. Deputy Sheriff Moses got Pritchard at Washington, but while returning through Pennsylvania at Altoona Moses was met with a writ of habeas corpus, parties having telegraphed ahead, and another officer took the prisoner from him and placed him in jail. On account of resistance Moses was also arrested, but was released on his own recognizance, and Pritchard's habeas corpus case was set for Wednesday. Moses says Pennsylvania judges and attorneys claim that a fugitive could not be taken through that State without a warrant from their Governor. On Moses' arrival here, Gov. Foster decided that he could not legally make such a requisition because Pritchard is a fugitive in Pennsylvania and commissioned Moses to return to Altoona. Meantime Gov. Hoyt, of Pennsylvania, and President Roberts of the railroad company were notified of what had been done and that an agent of Ohio was awaiting the result. These are the most remarkable extradition proceedings ever heard of here and the outcome will be awaited with interest.

Work will be commenced this week on the handsome residence which it is proposed to erect on York street for Rev. Father McSweeney.

FROM THE GULF. Joseph Copeland, an Indian, was drowned at the Gulf Saturday morning, and while hunting for him a man by the name of Duff had one of his legs broken by falling on a ledge. He was sent to Brownville by boat Sunday.

The first annual meeting of the State Camp, P. O. S. of A., will be held at Bar Harbor, July 12th, the session to continue two days. The State Camp was instituted at the session of the National Encampment held in Portland last June.

SUDDEN ILLNESS. We learn with much regret of the dangerous illness from brain fever of Rev. M. W. Prince, Principal of the East Maine Conference Seminary of Bucksport. He was in Bangor on Saturday last and was taken suddenly sick shortly after his return home.

THE WEATHER. The weather during yesterday was extremely disagreeable. During the previous night the temperature rapidly fell and yesterday heavy overcoats were a necessity on the streets and furnace fires were a luxury in the household. In the forenoon snow fell for some time.

THE ECLIPSE. A total eclipse of the sun occurs to-morrow. The Bangor mean time of the conjunction in right ascension is about three o'clock in the morning. The central line of this eclipse will cross northern Africa and central Asia. The eclipse will be invisible in this vicinity.

REFORM CLUBS. The semi-annual convention of Reform Clubs of Maine will be held in Norway, Wednesday and Thursday, June 7th and 8th, 1882. The usual arrangements have been made with railroads to carry delegates to and from the convention at one fare. Free entertainment for all who attend.

MILITIA. Adjutant-General George L. Beal has issued General Orders No. 17, granting permission to all military organizations in the state to parade, in uniform and with arms, in connection with the Grand Army services on Memorial Day, and, so far as desired, for escort duty. Their services will be tendered to the Grand Army Posts in their respective localities.

ENTERTAINMENT THIS EVENING. The entertainment this Tuesday evening at the vestry of the Universalist church, will present an array of attractions worthy a larger fee of admission than the small sum of ten cents. The shadow pantomime and music would be well worth the admission fee, but the unique and thrilling concert by the celebrated Smith family will make this entertainment one of rare worth. Cake and ice cream will be served during the evening.

A. O. OF H. The National Convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Chicago closed on Saturday, and will meet again at Cleveland next May. Resolutions were passed condemning the recent assassinations in Ireland, and, as Irishmen and as citizens of the United States, repudiating the deed. The order numbers over 50,000 members and owns property valued at over $264,000. About $72,000 was disbursed last year to sick and disabled members and for death losses, and there is upwards of $161,000 cash balance on hand.

MAINE CENTRAL. The new time table on the Maine Central is to go into effect Sunday evening, June 18th. It is rumored that a local train will run daily (Sundays excepted) each way between this city and Brunswick, leaving here at 6:45 A. M. and arriving here at 6:50 P. M. In the past this local train has run from this city only as far as Waterville. It is understood the day express train will make quick time and the only stations between this city and Brunswick at which the express will stop will be Newport, Burnham, Waterville, Augusta Hallowell and Gardiner. It is expected the day express will leave at 7:45 A. M. and arrive here at 5:50 P. M., considerably earlier than ever before. The night express will leave at 8 P. M. and arrive here at 5.30 A. M.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE. Hartland is soon to be connected by telephone with the telegraph at Pittsfield. An Association has been formed for that purpose. The capital is in shares of ten dollars, and has been all taken. The officers are G. J. Shaw, President; A. J. Moor, Vice President; J. O. Bradbury, Secretary; A. W. Miller, Treasurer; G. J. Shaw, A. J. Moor, J. O. Bradbury, Llewellyn Parks 2d, L. Lancaster, A. Linn, H. Pushor, Directors. The town has long felt a need for other means of communication than the mail, and the telephone will prove a great convenience. The line will be about eight miles in length and will probably be in operation in about a month. There will be a station in Hartland and one in Pittsfield, (probably at the depot.) The line will be for public use.

A HANDSOME BADGE. Colonel F. M. Drew, member of the Council of Administration of the Department of Maine, G. A. R., has received the gold badge intended for presentation to Rev. W. G. Haskell, of Lewiston, Past Commander of the G. A. R. of Maine, in accordance with the vote of the annual encampment at Gardiner, February 8th. The badge is a very elegant affair, and was manufactured to order by Messrs. Guild & Delano, of Boston. It may be described as follows: At the top is a spread eagle, resting on crossed cannon and sabres, the whole of "frosted" gold. Beneath this, a foliated rod, from which depends the "strap" of Department Commander. The border is of bright yellow gold, the field is of black, upon which are two silver stars (the Major General's rank) in the centre of each of which glistens a pure white diamond. Below this a drop of linked gold chain three fourths of an inch in width and an inch and a quarter in length, like the old fashioned "fob chain." On this are mounted the badges of the 10th and 18th Army Corps, with the inscription "Army of the James." Mr. Haskell rendered service in different Departments, but preferred this device. Beneath this, again, is an ornate plate bearing the inscription "W. G. Haskell," and another foliated rod, holding the five-pointed Grand Army star. This is encircled with a wreath of laurel. A neat guard chain and bar pin completes the design. On the back of the star is the inscription: "Presented to Past Commander W. G. Haskell, by comrades of the Department of Maine, G. A. R., 1882."

The School Committee have voted to close the Bangor schools on the above days in order to enable the teachers to attend and thereby receive profitable instruction. Like action on the part of school committees in adjoining towns is to be desired. The meetings promise to be very interesting. The Maine Central, European & North American, Bangor & Piscataquis and Eastern Maine Railroads will sell excursion tickets to those attending the convention at one fare for the round trip. Arrangements for board have been made for those in attendance at the Penobscot Exchange at $1 50 per day.

AMUSEMENTS.

Chanfrau.

The sale of seats for either of the four performances to be given in the Opera House commencing Thursday evening, will open at the box office this morning. Of Mrs. Chanfrau's "Camille," the play to be given on the opening night, the San Francisco Alta says: "It is most pleasant to be able to record, for an effort so pure in conception and so faultless in form as Mrs. Chanfrau's "Camille," a very rich success. The curtain was called up on the thrilling tableaux at the end of the third act, and Mrs. Chanfrau was recalled at the end of the fourth." Friday night will be offered Boucicault's famous comedy, "London Assurance," in which Mr. and Mrs. Chanfrau will both appear. These two artists have never before appeared in the same piece. At the Saturday matinee, Mrs. Chanfrau will appear as "Lady Isabel" in the new "East Lynn," at special cheap prices, and Saturday night the ever popular "Kit," with its exciting scenes, the two "Beats," etc., will be presented. The Chanfrau engagement, presenting as it does so varied and attractive programme, should prove a most successful one.

East Corinth Academy.

E. CORINTH, May 15, 1882.

Mr. Editor: Corinthian Hall was crowded last Friday evening, on the occasion of the closing exercises of the Spring term of East Corinth Academy, by the relations and friends of the students, and by citizens interested in the institution and in educational matters generally. The following was the programme:

Recitation—Drifting Out to Sea	Fannie E. Katen
Declamation—Supposed Speech of Adams	C. Fred. Megquier

Although it took nearly three hours to go through with the exercises, the audience remained till the very close, and attested its appreciation of each member on the programme by marked attention and hearty applause. Where all did so well, it seems invidious to particularize, but we cannot refrain from mentioning among the young ladies the names of Berty M. Kingsbury, Rose M. Porter, Elba Swett and Sadie M. Bolton, as having acquitted themselves splendidly, the former answering to an encore. The young gentlemen deserving of special mention are W. J. Bailey, Frank A. Smith, N. J. Winslow, Geo. L. Goss and H. F. Farrar. The singing was excellent, and to the participants are due the hearty thanks of all present for the great pleasure it afforded them.

The community is under deep obligations to Mr. Fletcher, principal, and his excellent assistant, Miss M. A. Mathews, for this intellectual feast.

Decision in Law.

The following decision has been received by Ruel Smith, Esq., Clerk of the Eastern Law District:

PENOBSCOT COUNTY CASE.

Lyman Tyler vs. Joseph S. Fickett.

Rescript—Neither the "traces of a travelled way" which was part of a woodroad leading from the scene of lumbermen's operations to the westerly terminus of the "Odlin road so called" nor the line surveyed and staked out by the city engineers of Bangor for a continuation of said Odlin road, but never accepted or constructed is aptly or accurately described in the deeds to Thomas R. Thompson and Erastus Gowen respectively as "the continuation of said Odlin road," or as "said Odlin road," or as "Odlin road extended." There is a necessity for determining the identity of the monuments claimed by the parties respectively with those referred to in the deeds, and a latent ambiguity in the description, either of which justifies the resort which the referees had to oral testimony.

We are entirely satisfied that the defendant, at all events, was not injured by their conclusions, even if these conclusions as to matters of fact could be regarded as examinable by this Court under the agreement of the parties.

Those conclusions accord better with the language of the deeds and with the contemporaneous construction given to them by the parties interested than the positions taken by the defendant would.

While monuments capable of being identified must always control courses and distances given in a deed, these last are not to be disregarded in determining the identity of the monuments claimed with those referred to in the deed.

It was competent for the referees to find that the line surveyed and staked out for an extension of the Odlin road was the monument referred to in the deeds, and that it was not the woodroad running to the Odlin road which was referred to, and we have no doubt of the correctness of that decision.

Exceptions overruled. Report of Referees accepted. Judgment for plaintiff accordingly.

Two Eclipses

Will occur in '82, one May 17th, and one November 10th, the first will be total, but owing to the perihelion of the moon (through a misplaced switch on the solar track) becoming tangled in the innumerable molecules of the aurora borealis and the nucleus of the comet, the obscuration cannot be seen in America unless you take a strong glass—of rock and rye, then you can see the whole display, as well as lots of stars of a lesser magnitude. HANCOCK EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

THE SPRING MEETING.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The Hancock County Educational Association met at Orland, in April, with Mr. Foster, of Castine, President in the chair. Opened by singing led by Mrs. Dr. Chase. The Secretary being absent, A. H. Keyes was elected Secretary pro tem.

The first on the programme, the discussion of the question, "The wants and defects of the schools of Hancock County," was begun by Hon. N. A. Luce, State Superintendent of Schools, who spoke of inexperienced teachers and the deficiency of school implements, but, said he, "The schools of Hancock County are as good as any of the State." He said, also, that he was preparing a new Register that should contain, besides the usual information, the studies of each scholar and their rank, and the amount of work done in each class. This Register should be given to the succeeding teacher, that he may know the place of each scholar at once, and without examination.

Messrs. Richard Perkins, of Lamoine, Frank Gross, of Orland, and Hosea Wardwell, of Penobscot, followed in the discussion of the question, and presented some very good ideas.

At 12 M. adjourned till 2 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2 P. M. a goodly number of school teachers and friends of education had assembled in the church. The exercises were opened by singing by Miss Hall, of Bucksport.

Mr. Perkins, of Lamoine, gave some methods of teaching fractions, and his methods were thoroughly sifted by Messrs. Foster, Staples, and Gross, but they stood the test.

A paper on "How to teach Interest and Proportion," was given by A. H. Keyes.

Remarks were then made by Mr. Luce in regard to the County organization. He said, that no class has so little influence as teachers, and that they need some organization to build them up, and that they should organize to show a solid front and to put forth a united effort for their good. Last fall a County organization was made in Hancock County with a membership of fifty, and he hoped the number would be doubled at Orland. Recess.

During recess, thirty-five names were added to the list of members of the County Association. After recess, Mr. Frank Gross presented a general outline of the amount of mathematics that should be taught in our common schools, and the subject of analysis in arithmetic. Mr. Gross is a thorough mathematician, and his ideas were clear, concise and exact. Mr. Gross, having been asked what subjects he would omit from the arithmetic, replied, "Alligation, and Arithmetical and Geometrical Progression." After some work in Percentage by Messrs. Foster and Gross, adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

First—Singing by Mrs. Dr. Chase.

Mr. Foster reported that on account of sickness in his family, Dr. Lowell, of Ellsworth, was unable to be present.

A paper on Reading was presented by Miss Helen Webster, of Castine. Miss Webster is an earnest and progressive teacher, and her thoughts are practical. Two thoughts of Miss Webster's that were particularly good, I will give here. First—Don't confine yourself too closely to the reading-book, but bring in newspapers to read from. Second—Be careful that scholars do not get into a slovenly way of speaking, but make them give correct sounds in every case.

Mr. Herbert Gross, of Orland, presented a paper on Geography. Mr. Gross is a young teacher, but a thoroughly smart one. His paper showed much thought and a good method of teaching Geography, and he bids fair to rank among our best teachers.

A query box that had been prepared in the afternoon and queries had been collected was opened by Mr. Luce, and the questions answered clearly and concisely. Many of the queries were of great importance to teachers, and the answers were right to the point. I would be glad to give these but for fear that I have trespassed too long on the Editor's patience, and that this may find its way into the waste basket, I will not. After answering as many queries as time would admit of, the meeting adjourned.

Second Day.

To the great surprise of all, and to the discouragement of teachers, morning dawned with three or four inches of snow on the ground and with a miniature winter in progress out of doors, but the gloom was dispelled by the teachers at the church by singing.

Mr. Foster then took up the subject of grammar and said that he should teach grammar as much as possible by writing and constructing sentences and by the correction of False Syntax. Questions were asked him by many teachers, all of which were answered satisfactorily to the teachers and to the audience. Recess.

After recess remarks were made by Mr. Woodbury, Principal of the Castine Normal School. Two thoughts were introduced. First—The study of grammar. Second—The study of the English language. The latter is of primary importance, "for," says Mr. Woodbury, "you should teach your scholars to talk and write correctly at all times," and with this intention, do all the work you possibly can in writing, and correct all mistakes in the use of language in speaking.

Mr. Foster presented a paper on Geography by Miss Comstock, of Castine Normal School. If Miss Comstock's class-recitations are as interesting as her paper, her pupils must be pleased with their work, for we were much pleased with the exercise with the moulding board and the forming of continents with sand, and especially do we like her idea of teaching the geography of home places more thoroughly than of foreign.

Mr. Woodbury gave the method of teaching Geography in the "model room" at Castine Normal School.

Messrs. Foster and Woodbury then answered some questions asked by teachers, and Mr. Woodbury invited the teachers to come to the Normal School and see them.

Mr. Luce answered the queries which were laid over from the preceding evening, after which, adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2 P. M., Mr. Woodbury opened the meeting by speaking on Elocution. He advised particular care in pronunciation, and gave an exercise in Phonetics.

Jos. Hutchings, of Penobscot, read a paper on "General thoughts on school work and teachers." What he said was adapted to any school, and was of real practical benefit to the teachers present.

Mrs. Dr. Chase then took up the subject of music, and gave a short talk about music in schools. A class was then carried through some musical exercises, and acquitted itself successfully. Not too much praise can be said of Mrs. Chase. In every good work to help the children along, she has lent her hand, and now, as Supervisor of Schools, her good work is seen in building up our schools and making them more profitable. The town will do well to keep her in that position. Recess.

Mr. Luce answered questions on school law, and subjects concerning schools. School law was sifted thoroughly, and teachers listening to Mr. Luce's talk need never fail on that point.

Messrs. Luce and Foster thanked the people of Orland for their kindness, hospitality and their interest in the meetings. Adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

Messrs. Luce, Woodbury and Foster, and nearly all of the teachers from out of town, had been obliged to go home before evening, so the evening meeting was made up of nearly all home teachers.

Mr. Charles Perkins made some remarks, and called Mr. Taylor, of Sedgwick, to the chair. The subject of reading was taken up again, and remarks were made by Mr. Wardwell, Miss Phippe, and Mr. Joseph Ames.

The second subject, Rhetorical Exercises, was talked over by Messrs. Keyes, Wardwell, John Ames, Herbert Gross, Frank Gross, Charles Perkins and Jos. Ames.

The third question, School Discipline, was discussed by Messrs. Chase, Gross, Perkins, Keyes, Taylor and Wardwell.

The fourth question, the Grievances of Teachers, was discussed by Messrs. Perkins and Wardwell.

On motion of Mr. Wardwell, of Penobscot, a vote of thanks was extended to the people of Orland for their kind forbearance and great hospitality.

Closed by singing "Old Hundred."

Adjourned for six months. SEC.

What Happened to
"[illegible] BEACH."

Stone in the Kidney Expelled After Using Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" About two Weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Bridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered since October 18th, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid hundreds of dollars for medical treatment, with only temporary relief from his agony.

By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a mark improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine, on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.

Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "It will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any disorders arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address is Rondout, New York.

A Remarkable Discovery.

THERE IS ONLY ONE

AND THAT WITH SIMPLE NAME.

Beware of impostors, pirates, or any old articles which now suddenly claim to be best. They have been tried and found wanting, while this has been proved a remarkable success.

NO POMPOUS NAME.

This curative needs no pompous or incomprehensible title of Greek or Latin to sustain it, but its simple English name appeals directly to the commonsense of the people. And the people are signally manifesting their appreciation of this frankness by selecting and using Dr. Benson's SKIN CURE in preference to all other professed remedies.

Dr. C. W. Benson has long been well known as a successful physician and surgeon and his life study has been the diseases of the nervous system and of the skin, since he has been persuaded to put his New Remedy and Favorite Prescription as a "Skin Cure" on the market, various things have sprung up into existence, or have woke up from the sleepy state in which they were before, and now claim to be The Great Skin Cures.

Beware of imitations, or the various articles which have been advertised for years or struggled along, having no real hold or merit on the public, that now endeavor to keep head above water by advertising themselves as "The Great Skin Cure." None is genuine and reliable, except Dr. C. W. Benson's Skin Cure. Each package and bottle bears his likeness. Internal and external remedy, two bottles in one package. Price $1.00, get at your druggists.

RELIEF FOR ALL OVERWORKED BRAINS.

CAUSE AND CURE.

Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills are valuable for school children who suffer from nervous headaches caused by an overworked brain in their studies, and for all classes of hard brain-workers whose overtasked nervous centers need repair and sedation. Nervous tremor, weakness, and paralysis are being daily cured by these pills. They correct costiveness, but are not purgative. Price, 50 cents or six boxes for $2 50, postage free, to any address. For sale by all druggists. Depot, Baltimore, Md., where the Doctor can be addressed. Letters of inquiry freely answered.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT
The King of the Body is the brain; the stomach its main support, the nerves its messengers; the bowels, the kidneys and the pores its safeguards. Indigestion creates a violent revolt among these attaches of the regal organ, and to bring them back to their duty, there is nothing like the regulating, purifying, invigorating, cooling operation of TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT. It renovates the system and restores to health both the body and the mind.
